We're finding low-carbon energy in unlikely places

Like biogas captured from cow manure to create Renewable Natural Gas<sup>1</sup> (RNG). It's a low-carbon energy<sup>2</sup> that can be used in homes and businesses across the province—and we're adding more to our supply every year.

Our natural gas delivery system can provide RNG to buildings and developments to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. This means buildings can meet strict emissions guidelines without expensive upgrades or retrofits.

Find out more about RNG at fortisbc.com/rngbuild.

Connect with us @fortisbc

<sup>1</sup>Renewable Natural Gas is produced in a different manner than conventional natural gas. It's derived from biogas, which is produced from decomposing organic waste from landfills, agricultural waste and wastewater from treatment facilities. The biogas is captured and cleaned to create Renewable Natural Gas (also called biomethane). <sup>2</sup>When compared to the lifecycle carbon intensity of conventional natural gas. The burner tip carbon intensity of FortisBC's current RNG portfolio is 0.29 gCO<sub>2</sub>e/MJ. FortisBC's current RNG portfolio lifecycle emissions are negative 22 gCO<sub>2</sub>e/MJ. This is below B.C.'s low carbon threshold for lifecycle carbon intensity of 36.4 gCO<sub>2</sub>e/MJ as set out in the 2021 B.C. Hydrogen Strategy.

With the Jacket Stripping Tool, you can quickly and correctly remove the protective jacket layer before connecting an XR3™ fitting. The Jacket Stripping Tool replaces your utility knife by taking the guesswork out of counting corrugations and cutting down to the correct depth and ONE tool can be used for TWO different sizes of CSST.

PROTECT the HOMES
You BUILD with RadonX™

Radon gas is a colourless, odourless gas that occurs naturally from decaying uranium in the soil. Over time, it can seep into a home through cracks and openings in the foundation and, if not adequately vented, potentially pose a serious health hazard.

The RadonX™ Soil Gas Venting System from IPEX is a complete piping solution designed to improve air flow and consists of a solid vent pipe, perforated gas collector pipe, standard fittings, termination accessories, and solvent cement. It's easy to install and to identify, and it features a permanent joining system along with an exclusive rain cap.

As a contractor or home builder, building safe homes for families is your first priority. Reduce the risk of radon gas exposure with RadonX™ Soil Gas Venting.

Open your IOS or Android device and scan here for more information

Did you know... Exposure to radon gas is a growing concern and is a preventable risk. Check with your building authority to confirm what your local requirements are when it comes to radon gas mitigation.
